MEDICINAL.

A Perfect Balance

Of mind and body was the Roman idea of perfect health. They defined this balance as "a sound mind in a sound body." A weak or sickly body tends to drag down the mind to its own level. Keep the body in health and the mind will take care of itself. The health of the body depends mainly on two things: A sound stomach and pure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery preserves the balance of health, because it makes the stomach strong and the blood pure. People who had not had a well day in years, nervous of body, depressed of mind, have been perfectly cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"During the summer and fall of 1896 I became ill run down," writes Charles H. Sergeant, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "nerves were out of order and stomach was out of order. I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used six bottles, and since I stopped taking it, about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been every day, my appetite is good. I do not feel that burning in the stomach after eating, and my blood and nerves are in good shape."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

MR. BRYAN ON THE INQUIRY.
Commenting on the Sampey-Schley controversy, Mr. Bryan says in "The Commoner":

"It is indeed a very great pity that there should be any controversy over a matter in which the world has given credit where credit belongs. It is indeed a pity that there should be any controversy that seeks to discredit a brave, honorable, and modest sea fighter who successfully led the American forces in one of the greatest naval battles in the history of the world. It is indeed a very great pity the politicians and the bureaucrats, the favorites of the administration, should insist upon discrediting and abusing a man who has served his country so faithfully as Winfield Scott Schley has served the United States of America. Admiral Sampey's friends should be satisfied with the fact that their favorite obtained the prize money won in a battle in which he did not participate and that his face is to grace a medal that is to commemorate a fight in which he did not take part. It should be sufficient for them that Admiral Schley has never made any claim as to his part in the battle in Santiago Bay; that he has been content for the newspaper representatives and other witnesses to give facts to the American people. The difficulty is that these statements have convinced the American people that Schley was the real hero of the day and entitled to all honors at the hands of a grateful people, even though he is denied the emoluments in the way of prize money and medals. It would be interesting to observe what disposition the Administration will make of the navy yard clerk called by the 'New York Sun' 'the most distinguished living American historian.' As a clerk in the navy yard he should be displaced because of his outrageous assault upon a man who has been the patient victim of the most remarkable series of attacks recorded in American history. It is not at all likely that this 'most distinguished living American historian' is at all dependent upon his salary as clerk. It may rather be supposed that his employment as clerk in the navy yard was merely a cover whereby he could carry out the work mapped out for him."

HICKS FOR AUGUST.
Threatening, stormy weather may be looked for in many quarters as August comes in. A season of menacing storm conditions may hover over the Gulf regions until after the 6th. From the 6th to the 9th look for a warm wave to culminate in thunder storms with heavy hail and high winds. Following these storms no one need be surprised at a sudden fall of temperature. There should certainly be an abatement of summer heat, for a few days, until the 13th or 14th. High temperatures may be expected about the time of the new moon or the 14th. Electrical, blistering storms will break out generally and continue until the 15th.

We know of no reasons why there should be decided change from dry weather generally in August, but some startling downpours and hail will occur in narrow localities on the central storm days until after the middle of August. They will be preceded by high temperatures, thunder and lightning. Drops of temperature will follow the storms in the sections in which they occur.

From the 17th to the 20th is the mid-summer storm period and there will be many severe storms on the lakes and at sea coasts and in parts of the interior. There will be much cooler weather generally, with brief changes to warmer, into September. The 24th and 25th are reactionary storm days.

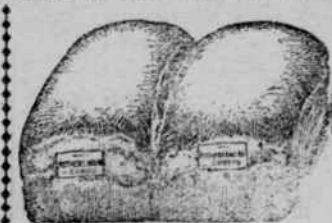

About this time, West India equatorial storms and cyclones will form about the equator. The last four or five days of August into September West India storms, high tides and cyclones will strike the south side of our continent and along the waters next thereto.

It is probable that generous rains will visit many localities during the closing storm period in August. A series of counter storms, as a rule, come from the polar regions breaking down high temperatures.

No one knows how many more millions of bushels of early wheat have been harvested through Hicks' warning, "plant the crops that will mature with June moisture" that there would be a "minimum rainfall period central in 1901." The predictions of drought have spread its blighting, withering wings not only over our own great country, but England, France, Germany and many other parts of the earth as well.

CHILDREN IN HOT WEATHER.
"During the hot weather," said the night telegraph operator, "I seldom turn in until 5 o'clock in the morning, although I am off at 2 o'clock. My room in the boarding house which I honor with my patronage is small and stuffy, and, as it faces away from the sun, I find it cooler and more conducive to sleep after sunrise. The hours between 2 and 5 I spend sometimes beneath an electric fan in an all-night loon, with a few glasses of beer to keep me company, but more often I jump a trolley car and ride off somewhere—I don't much care where. Sometimes, if there is a little breeze stirring, I stretch out on a bench in one of the popular squares. But what I wanted to say is that I have been surprised at the numbers of small children who seem to be as great night owls as I am. Often on very hot nights I have encountered worn-out mothers on trolley cars, with children who seem to be wide awake. Conductors with whom I have talked tell me it is no unusual thing. The mothers will doze, but the little ones, who have probably had afternoon naps, will be thoroughly enjoying the ride. In the public squares I have also seen babies in cocoons as late as 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning."—[Philadelphia Record.]
